CHRONICLE.)

GEN. BROWN'S SPEECH AT THE COURT HOUSE.

Gen. Brown, one of the State Rights Democratic Candidates to Congress, arrived in Holly Springs on Monday last, and in the evening, addressed the People of Marshall at the Court House, on the subject of National Politics—in which he laid down the true Jeffersonian doctrine; opposed the creation of a National Bank and advocated the establishment of the Independent Treasury System with an ability and an eloquent zeal, which must have made him strong in the affections of every true democrat who heard him. With all candor, and perfect confidence, that, EDUCATED and HONORABLE men of all parties, will endorse our assertion, we unhesitatingly pronounce Gen. Brown's address the most chaste, able and finished political one ever listened to in the Empire County, save that splendid and unsurpassable speech of the Hon. JAMES McDOWALL, of Virginia, at the complimentary dinner given him here last Spring. To use the language of one of our most respectable and intelligent citizens, in answer to our question "How were you pleased with our Southern Candidate?"—"his appearance and address more than realized and fulfilled the high hopes and expectations we had for him of them." "Gen. BROWN IS A MAN OF MIND—an ORATOR, AND ARGUMENTATOR." "I like that chap's look," said a gruff old farmer, as the General ascended to the dock when that prosing old gentleman, Judge Turner, allowed the audience to wake up from the somniferous spell his still small voice had bound them under, during an hour and a half, which time he occupied in saying what?—perhaps some of the little circle around him can tell; for not a syllable could be heard half way across the Court Room. "I like that chap's look—he comes up to the scratch like a lion!" and the general's address confirmed we doubt not, to the utmost, the staunch old yeoman's rough, but genuine compliment. For nearly three hours, the Democratic speaker delighted, kept deeply interested, and in fixed attention, the large assembly in the courtroom; and it was the large it we have ever seen assembled there. We took no notes, and should not do the democratic candidate anything like justice were we to attempt to give, even a synopsis of his remarks from memory—therefore shall not attempt it. GENERAL BROWN spoke, as if impressed with the fact that he was addressing, in the sovereigns of Marshall, one of the most intelligent communities of the State, if not the most intelligent and discerning; and again we say—his speech was one of the most brilliant, and argumentative, ever delivered here. At its conclusion, he was warmly applauded.

THE LAST APPEAL.

We owe our journeyman three weeks wages—we owe our landlords for rent; and are otherwise troubled with million-complaints. This is our 17th No.—our terms are $1 a year payable in advance, yet but 5 subscribers in the town of Holly Springs have complied with our terms. We are owed by others for job printing and advertising—dues to us several hundred dollars in all, and you not a dollar can we collect. To make a long story short—however mortifying it is to make the admission our PATRONS are pursuing a course to make us shut up shop.

Extract of a letter dated, Hernando, Aug 20th.

Mr. R. P. Howe:—The democratic party are flourishing in this county. Col. Talbert will certainly be elected by a very decided majority. He is combatting all shipplaster monies, and stealing establishments. The people seem to be alive to the necessity of supporting those only, who stand pledged to retrieve the State from the certain ruin awaiting her, provided the matter is not quickly attended to. The "Free Press" is still "raving and pitching" as you will perceive. It is a most able auxiliary to the good cause.

P. S. Tunica co. will elect a Democrat—CERTAIN.

DISGRACEFUL FEDERAL OUTRAGE.

Gen. Brown, and our own distinguished fellow citizen, Hon. ROGER BARTON, were on Monday evening last gagged, and prevented from exercising the prerogative of freemen by the beastly conduct, noise and outrages of a clique of Federalists, most of them non-residents—the gettters up of the tumult, being warm political friends of the Hon. Ex-Representative, WOOD. We'll give a full history of this latest display of their principles by the sons of "alien and sedition" in our next. Never before was our "moral, religious and intelligent" community so disgraced—and we thank God it was not the work of our Whig fellow citizens, who have always allowed our candidates a gentlemanly and uninterrupted hearing—no! it was the work of impudent and unmannerly interlopers—who have no lot or part with us, and were presuming on the fact of its being court week and consequently, a time of Federal strength in town—seized the opportunity to give our democratic citizens a specimen of what they would do, had they the numerical strength all over the nation—the outrage on the rights of Messrs. Brown and Barton, was nothing more than the developing and carrying out on a small scale the principles of the party which fears the truth should be told. Gen. Brown will resume his remark on Monday.

We trust there will be a general turn out of the hard handed farmers and mechanics on Monday. Their presence will awe the factious clique, and prevent our town from being a second time disgraced and the democracy insulted by unmannerly, brawling interlopers. We have no objections to Mr. Wood or any other gentleman's being the bell weather of the wings of Marshall, if they have it in the county any gentleman capable of keeping them in the Federal fold, & from becoming converts to democratic doctrines—we only object to his motions audaciously gagging our citizens when exercising the great prerogative of freemen—it must not be permitted again. We hope Mr. Barton will give the gaggers a dressing down, after Gen. Brown's speech on Monday.

A SUGGESTION.

It would be a rich treat to the lovers of sound argument to hear that distinguished lawyer, Col Samuel B. Marsh, speak on the subject of a National Bank. We hope a call will be made on him on Monday to that effect. The more light the better.

DISTINGUISHED PERSONAGES.

During the week our town has been honored with the presence of some of the master minds of the State. The following are the names of some of the most distinguished.

The right venerable, the Hon. Judge Turner, A Lincal Descendant from the Worthies of '76 by the HAMILTONIAN SIDE.

Federal candidate for the Governorship of the State of Mississippi; and National Bank, Anti-National Bank, State Bank and Anti State Bank, Federal Democratic, State Rights, and Anti-State Rights politician—to suit voters: willing to be accommodating, and suit his professions according to the views of the crowd he falls into.

"HE CAN'T SHINE IN THIS CROWD." Hon. THOMAS JEFFERSON VORD, Ex. Member of Congress from Mississippi; formerly a good JACKSON Democrat, sustained the measures of his whole administration, and voted for Martin Van Buren; it is believed; a violent opposer of Extravagant Expenditure, now, but is said to have voted for all that were worried through Congress during his seat in it; a pretty clever fellow, who has been led into the bogs of Federalism by bad company and who will come back to the ranks of the followers of his ILLUSTRIOUS NAMESAKE as soon as he gets his wisdom teeth out. Hon. SAMUEL MARSH, of Carroll formerly a member of the higher branch of the State legislature, and one of the oldest politicians and probably the ablest lawyer in the State, now, one of the Republican State Rights candidates, for the Legislature, to represent Carroll and Tallahatchie.

GEN A G BROWN, of Copiah, the able, fearless, bold and eloquent Republican State Rights Candidate for Congress where he will go, to a moral CERTAIN—T V.

A debtor observed to a creditor, "That it was not his interest to pay the principal, nor his principle to pay the interest."

SPECIMEN.—On the 30th July $91,000 specie arrived at New York from Vera Cruz and Jamaica. The sch. Lone arrived at New Orleans on the 1st inst. from Tampico, having upwards of 191,000 specie on board, consigned to the merchant of that city.

UNION BANK.

The officers of this institution are now extremely solitious to graduate their stock and establish the branches contemplated in the charter, previous to the meeting of the Legislature.

It is generally known that, in consequence of the opposition of the officers and directors of the bank, citizens of those counties in which branches were to have been established, were compelled to travel a great distance, at a sacrifice of time and money, to make a humble acknowledgment of their wants at the footstool of power, when they should have commanded attention of the regents of the people in their own vicinity.

Why this sudden movement? Has the bank become powerless after discounting millions to speculators, and are the officers disposed to discharge their duty when the bank can render no aid to their country?

Or, is it to conceal those interests in the approaching canvass, that were estranged by their bad management?

The expression of public sentiment from every quarter must convince them they have forfeited the confidence before enjoyed, and unless some exertions are made, their powers cannot be enlarged, if those already delegated are not restricted.

The people call for a change—and a change they must have—but when it occurs, they will not forget the services of at least one of the directors.

We allude to JOHN J. McRAE, Esq. who was in favor of the early establishment of the branches, opposed to the issue of post notes and the banks dealing in cotton, and unhesitatingly denounced every measure that had not its origin in a desire to promote the public interests rather than secure individual advancement.—Free Trader.

Henry Clay is gone to Canada, but not electioneering, as it is gravely asserted by some of his friends. No, no—but just seeing the natural curiosities of the country, and traveling for pleasure. That is all. Wonder if the Whigs in Canada are to have a National Convention in November. We should like to know. But the federalists of our day do business so secretly and sneakily, that it is difficult to probe their political schemes.

PROPOSALS

For Publishing in the Town of Oxford LAFAYETTE COUNTY

MISSISSIPPI A NEWSPAPER ENTITLED THE SOUTHERN ADVOCATE

INFLUENCED by the earnest solicitations of numerous friends, and many assurances of a liberal support from the citizens of this county, the undersigned proposes publishing in Oxford a weekly newspaper bearing the above title. The rapid increase of population in this desirable part of the State—the central and eligible position of this town and the growing importance of this section of the state, induce the belief that a newspaper conducted upon liberal principles, devoted to the best interests of this country, the development of its vast resources, and its promotion to a state of independence more compatible with its true interests, ought to meet with a liberal support from the intelligent and enterprising population of North Mississippi.

The ADVOCATE will comport with its name, and give a bold advocacy to Southern rights and Southern interests, and employ its ablest efforts to advance the general good of the people of this immediate scope of country—it will advocate free and untrammelled commerce within the borders of our own State, by promoting the establishment of ports and carrying into operation a direct trade between this and the European countries, the consummation of which is sincerely believed to be essential to the permanent prosperity of the South.

The ADVOCATE will also give a firm and decorous support to those pure Democratic principles which form the basis of our republican government, and will sustain the present Administration of the general Government, in all its National relations, whilst so wisely administered by the present chief magistrate. It will hold in reverence the legitimate rights of the states, exercised in their constitutional sphere. It will wage a work of extermination against the odious "shin-plaster" institutions that have inundated our state with their "paper trash," crippled its energies, and tarnished its high reputation; and only support such Banks as are founded upon specie basis. In a word, it will be the earnest endeavor of the publisher to make his paper an interesting vehicle of news and general information, to all classes of the community.

W. M. HARTMAN.
Oxford, Miss, August, 1839.

TERMS. The ADVOCATE will be published on an imperial sheet, at five dollars per annum—payable in advance, otherwise six dollars will be demanded.

Advertisements printed at the usual rates of other newspapers of the state.
